Jess – As you can see by this email from Hudson there is a lot of re-labeling they believe should be done at our expense. Progressive will not be done with re-labeling their 1,400 cylinders until the end of the month. With what Hudson now wants re-labeled we will be into next year and ~$7,500 in costs; if all goes well. I suggest we exit the Hudson deal and move forward with selling the product to other parties. We should improve our overall pricing by ~$250k, if we are able to get $320 for the R22.

Hudson owes us $99,637 which is due 11/14.

Hannah,

Here is the updated inventory counts for TX, GA and LA.

I didn't include Progressive since we already have the PO for that site.

Please let me know if you need anything else or if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Hi Jason,

I spoke to Star this morning, we are waiting for updated inventory counts from you for each location.

We did have a meeting this morning. Once we receive the updated counts I can send you a recap later today on what we know so far.

Thank you,
